

Navitas invites (DAX) investors to register for a virtual event on September 9th at 10:00 AM EDT, and also attend market opportunity

Deutsche Bank - September 2nd, 2021 - Navitas (NASDAQ: NAVT) is pleased to announce its participation in the Deutsche Bank 2021 Technology Conference taking place on 9th and 10th September.

Navitas, a leading provider of GaN power IC technology, will present at the conference on Tuesday, September 7th, 2021 at 10:00 AM EDT. Navitas will be joined by Deutsche Bank analysts and investors for a Q&A session on Wednesday, September 8th, 2021 at 10:00 AM EDT.

Deutsche Bank 2021 Technology Conference includes activities for both investors and analysts, including a virtual event on Tuesday, September 7th, 2021 at 10:00 AM EDT, and a virtual event on Wednesday, September 8th, 2021 at 10:00 AM EDT. The Deutsche Bank 2021 Technology Conference includes activities for both investors and analysts, including a virtual event on Tuesday, September 7th, 2021 at 10:00 AM EDT, and a virtual event on Wednesday, September 8th, 2021 at 10:00 AM EDT.

Navitas and CEO, Steve Denkins, will discuss GaN power IC technology and the $1.5B market opportunity in a live presentation with Q&A at 11:00 AM EDT on Thursday, September 9th. To participate, and to arrange an on-site meeting, please contact Dennis Lohr of dlohr@navitas.com.

Virtual event registration is free. Navitas will issue GaNFast power IC technology and the $1.5B market opportunity in a live presentation with Q&A at 11:00 AM EDT on Thursday, September 9th. To participate, and to arrange an on-site meeting, please contact Dennis Lohr of dlohr@navitas.com.

Headline News

Deutsche Bank (NYSE:DB) is a leading provider of financial services to agencies, corporations, governments, private individuals and institutions in the Americas. Having first established a presence in the Americas in the 1800s, today it has a long and successful track record in the US, opening its first North American branch in New York City in October 2001. Deutsche Bank was the first German bank to list on the NYSE and one of the largest foreign banks registered in New York City.

Market Notice

Deutsche Bank (NYSE:DB) is a leading provider of financial services to agencies, corporations, governments, private individuals and institutions in the Americas. Having first established a presence in the Americas in the 1800s, today it has a long and successful track record in the US, opening its first North American branch in New York City in October 2001. Deutsche Bank was the first German bank to list on the NYSE and one of the largest foreign banks registered in New York City.

Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward Looking Statements

This document contains certain forward-looking statements, including statements regarding the company's financial performance, business strategy, and other matters. These statements are based on current expectations and are subject to various risks and uncertainties. Investors should exercise caution when relying on these statements.

Important Information and Where to Find It

Investors should carefully review the company's financial statements, including its annual report, and other information available to investors. This information is available on the company's website and through its investor relations department.

Participation in the Offering

Deutsche Bank is acting as a lead arranger for the offering of Navitas' new debt securities. Investors interested in participating in the offering should contact Deutsche Bank's debt capital markets department.

Confidential Information

This document contains confidential information and is intended only for the individuals named herein. If you have received this document in error, please notify the sender immediately and delete this document from your system.

Deutsche Bank AG
Investor Relations